POINT LOOKOUT SURF

Founded in 1947, the Point Lookout Surf Life Saving Club is located on a rocky headland at the north east tip of Point Lookout on North Stradbroke Island, 50km east of Brisbane. Point Lookout is the easternmost point of Queensland.

Our island location make the Point Lookout Surf Club unique. We are one of the only Surf Life Saving Clubs in Australia whose volunteer members actively patrol two beaches.

Offering magnificent views of Main Beach and the headland, the supporters club is one of the most in demand venues on the island.

We are always looking for new members of all ages from 5 years and up. There is a role for everyone and members can be involved in all aspects of the Point Lookout Surf Life Saving Club - it's not just about patrolling the beaches.
